a yacht sail boat or any kind of vessel there is a great deal of work that can best be done with Pearline. It's she all the paint wood work decks, etc better than anything else. Most captains have found this out—and Pearline is kept in for every port now, on purpose for them. You can't use soap with salt water, you know, but it doesn't make much difference whether soft hot or cold—with Pearline.

Republicans and Democrats Much Amazed

At the Activity of the Ladies Getting to the Polls.

WOOSTER, O, April 1 Women caused consternation among the Republicans and Democrats to day by the surprising activity they showed in getting to the polls because it was expected that but few would vote. The ladies had a voting school next to the principal polling place which was constantly thronged. Quite a number of the most prominent ladies were out with carriages, taking women to the polls. The election of Mrs Isabella Yocum seems assured. At Sheve a hot fight is in progress and the two lady candidates will doubtless be elected

A BLOODY FIGHT

Hagemeyer's right hand was badly lacerated while Rusher escaped with a few bruises. Grogan was taken to the hospital in a dying condition. The other two were locked up

REAR ADMIRAL BROWN

Says the United States Navy is in Prime Condition

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind April 1 Rear Admiral Brown, U S N who recently became the ranking naval officer of the United States, arrived home yesterday on a furlough. He says the United States navy is in first class condition and he believes it is prepared for war in case of any present international trouble resulting disastrously. He called attention to the fact that the big squadron is now in the West Indies which would indicate that the trouble with the Spanish is now regarded as the most threatening of anything the State Department now has to deal with. "However," he said, "I don't think any of the present questions will result seriously as I think they have been greatly overdrawn but should the worst come we are in excellent condition. We have some of the finest warships afloat."

$800 IN GOLD DROWNS A MAN.

At the burning of a steamboat on the Hudson River forty years ago many of the passengers were drowned. Among the bodies brought up from the bottom of the river by grappling was that of a man known to have been an excellent swimmer. Around his waist was belt containing $800 in gold. That told the story.

In old and chronic cases of indigestion (dyspepsia or gastritis—it is all the same) the sufferer develops a great variety of symptoms and often dies—poisoned by the products of his own torpid and inflamed stomach. His food, instead of being digested and so furnishing strength and physical substance ferments and putrifies within him. The chief process of life is arrested at a vital point. The more he eats the worse off he is. And yet unless he can be fed he must also perish. People do so die, daily by thousands, but we doctors seldom have the moral courage to give the cause its true name lest we should be laughed at for our inability to cure so 'simple' a thing as indigestion. Simple? Why, it is the capstone of all complaints—and the mother of most of them.—So writes a famous English physician

Some of the symptoms alluded to are these: Loss of appetite, distress after eating, heartburn and palpitation, giddiness, foul taste in the mouth, the rising of nauseous acids and gases into the throat, furred tongue; spots before the eyes, unaccountable weariness and fatigue, sluggish circulation, weakness and nervous prostration, constipation or diarrhoea, discolored skin, etc.

The sufferer's friends often advise him to cheer up, to throw off his lethargy and eat freely. Bad advice! He knows better. "No," he answers, "I cannot, my food does me no good." He is right. Food now is gold in the spent swimmer's belt.

Take light nourishment, followed immediately by a dose of the Shaker Digestive Cordial—a new and radical remedy discovered and prepared by the Shakers of Mt. Lebanon, N Y.—the essence of medicinal herbs and plants cultivated by them alone. Then continue with it. Relieves at once and soon cures. Pleasant to the palate and adapted to all constitutions.

Trial bottles—which prove its merits—at ten cents. For sale by nearly all druggists. Tu

Beer and Sausage for Bismarck

FRIEDRICHSRUHE April 1 Some of Prince Bismarck's admirers evidently recalling the story that when a student the Prince cured himself of fever by eating two pounds of sausages and drinking several litres of beer are sending to the Chancellor beer and sausages enough to provision a besieged garrison. The platform of the railway station was piled up yesterday with barrels and boxes which kept several men busy all day carting to the castle

Emperor's Banquet in Honor of Bismarck

BERLIN April 1 All the Princes, diplomats and members of the Bundesrath will attend the Emperor's banquet in honor of Prince Bismarck this evening. The Bismarckish Press laughs at what it considers the Emperor's sad case in inviting the President and Vice President of the Reichstag to the banquet and say that the best wine in the Imperial cellars would melt to vinegar in the mouth of these unworthy guests

Baron Von Buol Berenburg President and Herr Spahn Vice President of the Reichstag are not expected to go to the dinner

Special prayers for the Prince Bismarck were offered yesterday in all the Protestant churches in Germany

Bouquets and Wreaths for Bismarck

FRIEDRICHSRUHE April 1 After a bitter cold night everything was white with hoar frost this morning but the bright sunshine soon caused this to disappear. Detachments of students poured into the ... and crowds ... special trains are arriving from all parts ... coming from Hamburg ...

Up to nine o'clock Prince Bismarck was still asleep and no music or loud sounds were permitted within hearing of the castle. Hundreds of bouquets, gifts of friends of the ex Chancellor who acted in concert to surprise the Prince were sent to the castle this morning together with numerous laurel wreaths tied with ribbons with the German colors attached and bearing mottoes and inscriptions. These were hung from branches of trees around the front of the castle and upon the veranda and added greatly to the festive aspect of the place

Prince Bismarck arose at 8 feeling vigorous and refreshed. Dr Schweninger was the first to congratulate him and presented him with a bouquet of roses. The Prince proceeded to the morning room where the members of the family were assembled. Each member presented him with a birthday gift. Dr Schweninger gave him a cask of pschorr beer

Prior to the reception of the students by the ex chancellor, Prince Bismarck gave an audience to a delegation of university professors headed by rector Pfleiderer. He also received a delegation of officers of the Sedlitz Cuirassiers of which the Prince is colonel a number of the representatives of the Senate of Hamburg and several other deputations

The Prince briefly thanked each deputation for their congratulations. The students after a 25 minutes march from the station reached the park at 12 50. They were headed by chief forester Lange and Professors Pflueger and Otean. The students took their places in front of the verandah. The band of the fourth guards played while the students were taking their positions and at 1 15 o'clock Prince Bismarck appeared on the verandah and were greeting with deafening cheers and the clashing of swords

He looked hale and hearty. After the cheering had subsided the student's address to Prince Bismarck was read as follows

"Upon this happy day when all Germany is resounding in jubilee it is the sacred duty of the German students to present their homage to your highness. With thankful hearts the students celebrate the anniversary of the man who raised the fatherland from long disunion to the glorious height of a united and powerful empire

What was achieved on the battlefield under the victorious banner of our fathers has fallen to the present generation an unearned harvest, but the German youth hope to bravely sustain and advance the work to which your highness devoted a life time replete with great results. To this we heartily pledge ourselves. May God bestow upon your highness happiness and abundant blessings"

Prince Bismarck replied "I have just received from the rector a recognition of what has been done in the past but of very much higher value is your welcome. It is a promise of the future and is of greater worth for a man of my age because the National feeling you evince is evidence of a continuance of my work

It is very satisfying to me to find a prospect that the German character will remain steadfast to the old principles. In politics it is much easier to know what to avoid than what to do. The guidance policy in politics can be compared to the navigation of a ship in unknown seas. The principal aim is to reach a safe harbor. If it is reached we ought to be thankful

One is never perfectly independent in guiding politics, but is always more or less dependent upon the decisions of others. Therefore, if we have succeeded partly we ought to thank God and not complain because we have not achieved what we hoped to. Man proposes but God disposes. Let us foster and guard what we have secured and be thankful therefor

"We mean to keep a fast hold upon the German empire as it is. Germany was powerful under the Carlovingians. The Saxon Hohenstaufens losing her power it took nearly 600 years to regain it. Political developments proceed as slowly as geologic formations so the work of leaders ought not to be judged hastily. The world will have to get a sight of the middle of the next century before I can be judged unbiased in history or from the impartial standpoint of bygone times.

"I am glad to feel your enthusiasm, glad to think that the German does not abandon in his old age what entered him in youth. The seed laid in your hearts by William I is certain to bear fruits in later days. I trust you will always remain as German and as national as you are today

Decree Dissolving Parliament

Greatest Enthusiasm Prevailed,

MUNICH, April 1 An immense festival in honor of Prince Bismarck was held last evening in the Odeon. A poem eugolistic of the ex-Chancellor was recited. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. To-day the city is profusely decorated with flags, banners, etc, and this evening a public demonstration of homage to Prince Bismarck will be held

All Bavarian towns are sending their congratulations to Prince Bismarck by telegraph. The city of Augusburg is celebrating the day with the utmost enthusiasm. Streets and public and private buildings are decorated. A grand gala performance is being held in the Stadt Theatre, a school children's celebration in the Bathhaus and a demonstration of citizens in the Stadtgarten.

School Children in Procession.

At Kissingen, a procession including the city authorities with flags and banners marched around the Bismarck monument upon which they placed wreaths

Armenian Outrages

LONDON, April 1 The Daily Telegraph this morning publishes a despatch from Moosh via Kars March 31. This says that only the weather prevent the commission of inquiry into the Armenian outrages from inspecting the ruined villages and pits that characterize more eloquently than any living witnesses the nameless horrors committed by the Sultan's troops. The only unsolved question is where the orders for these atrocities emanated. An important telegram forwarded in August last giving conclusive evidence on this point has vanished, but its existence is known to several persons and it may yet be possible to ascertain its contents

The Telegraph says editorially that there is an overwhelming mass of evidence that leaves no doubt that Sassoun was a mere fraction of a vast plan to exterminate the Armenians

Shakir Pasha's plan conceived four years ago for the defence of the Empire was the creation of a Kurdish cavalry force to defend the eastern provinces against the Russian Cossacks and the removal of all Christians in the frontier province

Terrible Boiler Explosion in Woburn, Mass

Several Killed and Injured—Scenes at the Accident

WOBURN Mass April 1 The residents of Woburn Highlands is one of the most thickly settled portions of the city were startled this morning by a loud report which shook windows and caused every one to rush out of doors. At the same moment huge pieces of timber were thrown into the air and across the street in front of Loring & Jones Leather factory

At 6 58 just as the men in the factory were preparing for work the boiler in the engine room at the northeast corner of the building exploded with tremendous force tearing out the end of the building and burying in the ruins at least a dozen men. The huge chimney which was over eighty feet high came down with a crash. Quick as possible an alarm was rung in immediately followed by a general alarm which summoned the whole department

At the same time telephone messages were sent to the Woburn Center police station or doctors. The officer in charge sent word immediately to the doctors in town and they hurried to the scene. The force of explosion was such that one of the boilers was thrown ... the ... heavy part ... of the ... building

The following men were killed: Austin Clements ... Patrick ... Patrick McGonigle ... G W Patterson

The injured who were removed to the ... contusions and cared for are as follows: Patrick Kelley ... John Treacy ... Saunders colored

For a while ... the work of the firemen was thus rendered dangerous ... the structure ... that it was a difficult matter to remove them

Willing citizens assisted the firemen and soon the body of Patrick McGonigle horribly mutilated was taken out and placed in the undertaker's wagon. The factory is one of the oldest in the city. It was originally built by ... and has been successively occupied by Bryant & King, Loring & Avery and Loring & Jones ... employed in the building at the present time. Had the accident occurred ... minutes later the loss of life would have been much more serious.

About 1000 spectators crowded about the scene and wives and mothers stood around weeping for the dead. It is impossible at the present hour to tell just how many are dead as there are many missing

Sounds appear ... the fire ... hands ... ... injured ... There were four boilers in the building two of which were new. One of them had been causing trouble and at 6 30 this morning John Parker the foreman of the plant was summoned to the shop

The water supply could not be satisfactorily adjusted but at the commencement of the day's work ... the shop it was believed to be in good working order. A few minutes before ... Mr Parker entered the engine room and gave the order to blow the whistle. One of the men caught the string and the next instant the immense iron ... stack went up in the air and fell across the roof of the shop

The great companion brick chimney fell in a thousand pieces on the engine room crushing all beneath it. In exploding, the boiler completely wrecked the brick house containing the boilers blew off one immense corner of the wooden frame factory raised a number of large sheds as if a cyclone had struck the and scattered debris for 300 yards around. The force of the explosion was something almost incomprehensible.

The head of the boiler dropped to earth on Connecticut street 300 yards away and the immense tubes were scattered all over the street ... of the ... window like the stick of a rocket and jabbing a hole ... roof ... dwelling house a hundred yards away. A barn across the street ... had a large piece knocked off one corner of the roof by the flying missiles and the main building of the factory was shaken from its foundations

FOR MAYOR

FLAVIUS O. BEAL.

The Rockland Star celebrated its first birthday Monday. It is a lusty infant and makes the old fellows hustle to keep pace with it. We congratulate the enterprising promoters on their success, a success based on the intrinsic merit of the paper.

The news comes from Indiana that said State will present Eugene V. Debs as a Presidential candidate of the People's party in the next campaign. It would be a wise selection as the candidate and party would be well suited to each other.

There is nothing doubtful about the Republicanism of Calais. The municipal election Monday resulted in a Republican walk-over. Mayor Murchie was re-elected by a plurality of 1[illegible] and a clean sweep was made in each of the seven wards, a solid Republican City Council being elected.

Hon. T. W. Palmer, formerly Senator from Michigan and formerly Minister to Spain, has been for years collecting from the four corners of the earth valuable souvenirs of his travels, costly pictures and rare books for his library. He was sitting by his great fire last Friday night when he smelled smoke. Before he could look around a tongue of flame burst into the library from a heating flue. He telephoned for the fire department, but before they arrived the south wing of the house was all ablaze. Neighbors rushed in to help him and took out what they could. The fire department had a two hours fight. Loss $10,000 library soaked with water and most of the small articles of virtu destroyed and some of the paintings ruined.

Frye in Connecticut.

Senator Frye has given the chief cause of nervous prostration the only thing best calculated to cause it. [illegible] a little scant American doctrine. This was the key note of a speech delivered by Senator Frye in Connecticut last week and it [illegible] the cuckoo editors [illegible] but harmless [illegible] of his speech the Senator said:

In 1861 we took the country [illegible] eleven States were in secession. We restored it to the Democratic party two years ago to peace with every State in its place and with more added to the sisterhood. We received it with bankrupt and we restored it with an overflowing treasury. We received it burdened with the disgrace [illegible] slavery. We restored it with not a single one within its borders and with a constitutional amendment that no one should ever be while the world lasted. We received it disregarded by every nation on the earth and restored it the most powerful of them all.

Do you remember the time that England [illegible] and sent out on the seas at that time. And when the war was over the gallant Grant sent out to the people of the nation and told them to send in their claims against Great Britain. She heard him and proposed that arbitrators settle the matter. They did and the result was that like a man Great Britain stepped up and paid us $15,500,000 and made no apology. A few years ago in the Samoan islands there was a King Malietoa who was friendly to us. Germany [illegible] and she would dethrone [illegible] the King. The United States heard [illegible] demand [illegible] Germany [illegible] was [illegible] reinstated. We consulted all the result was that a German man of war carried Malietoa back to his island home [illegible] and agreed to receive [illegible] of the island.

For the last two years [illegible] majority of the English House of Lords, backed by a substantial majority of the House of Commons has been in the habit of [illegible] all difficulties which may arise to arbitration. Would England have done this thirty years ago? Is she doing it now with Venezuela? No. She only does with nations she is afraid of. We received this nation of ours so far behind in industrial art that we could hardly see England. We restored it so far ahead of all others that we can see England only by looking back with difficulty through the dust raised by the wheels of our own progress. We received it worth $16,000,000,000 and we restored it worth $65,000,000,000. We received it covered with dishonor and restored it in honor. [illegible] overpowered by weakness we turned it glorying in strength.

"And now for a snap shot at the past two years. The Republican party has been a looker on, not in Venice, but in Venice that sad silent solemn city of the sea. We have been undisturbed by the hum of business, the singing of spindle, the roar of furnace. We have heard instead the cry of the hungry and the tread of millions of men looking for the work which they could not find. Every now and then there has been a trembling wail from the Secretary of the Treasury or the President. Its cadence has never been the same, its appeal has never been twice alike, but the result has always been the same. It has fallen on the ear of a dazed and demoralized Democratic majority.

"Like Damocles at the table of Dionysius, the business men after the November election of 1892 were afraid to move. All about them were the mills, the spindles and the workmen, but they dared not move forward, because the sword of Democracy was suspended over their heads by a single hair. There was not one who dared to do business. They saw that the Democrats had promised to restore wild cat banks and to kill protection. But if the shadow was bad, how about the substance? It was infinitely worse. Congress met and began to revise the tariff. It took them twelve months in the stupidest attempt at legislation ever made by intelligent men or idiotic men in the world. And when they were through there was not one who didn't say so. There was not a Republican or Democratic Congressman or Senator in favor of the bill, and a Democratic President cried out—'How can we go before the people with a bill so full of wicked discrimination?' The result of that work pleased only Germany, France, England, Belgium and Canada.

"The people found out what had been done very shortly and the first opportunity at the ballot-box swept the Democratic party out of power like a cyclone. In 1896 they will sweep it completely out, and we shall have a Republican President, Senate and House of Representatives. With power always comes responsibility. We shall have great questions of labor, immigration, currency, tariff and foreign relations. Will we fail? We never did yet. When we have power we shall not use it so that there shall be any one currency in the Republic inferior to any other, for we know when such a condition exists the inferior drives out the superior, and it is not the rich that suffer, but the average man. Our currency will be at a parity with the world's measure of value, whatever it is.

"Just as soon as we get the chance we will revise the tariff on the old lines, too. We shall admit free of duty everything we need and cannot produce here, other than luxuries. On everything made in Europe that competes with American labor duty will be placed equal to the differences between wages here and there. Give us Republican rule for a single decade, unlimited, uncrippled power, and we will show the people the beneficence of Republican legislation. We will lift the bankrupt treasury to the light of profusion and repletion and will raise sufficient revenue without an odious income tax. We will restore confidence and inspire courage, and there will start spindles and water-wheels. Every man who wants work will have it, and at the wages of the crowning year of Republican rule—1892.

"We will place our flag on all the seas of the earth, restore the merchant marine to its place and will increase our white strong-armed squadrons so that they command the respect of all nations. We will annex the Hawaiian Islands, fortify Pearl harbor, build the Nicaragua canal and marry the two great oceans. We will show people a foreign policy that is American in every fibre and hoist the American flag over whatever island we think best, and no hand shall ever pull it down."

Simply Discharging Its Duty

[Portland Evening Express.]

A few days ago the Express [illegible] reference to the Bangor mayoralty contest [illegible] suggested that the position of that time honored stalwart of pronounced and loyal Republicanism, THE WHIG AND COURIER, might be due to business rivalry. As the intimation has been taken seriously, it is but fair to say that the Express has no reason to believe that THE WHIG is open to the charge of having been governed in the controversy in question by other than its conviction of duty. THE WHIG may fairly claim to be above the suspicion of being influenced in the matter by any narrow considerations.

DEPEW THE ORATOR.

Delivers an Able Address at Chicago Monday Night

At the Annual Convention of the University of Chicago.

Received With Enthusiasm and Frequently Applauded.

Chicago, April 1 Three thousand people assembled in the Auditorium to-night to participate in the tenth annual convention of the University of Chicago Degrees and certificates were conferred on 25 men and women The convention orator was Chauncey M Depew, LL D He was received with great enthusiasm and his address frequently applauded He spoke in part as follows, his subject being

The Present Its Opportunities and Perils

In the career of a young man are several climacteries They are well defined and intensely interesting if he has the advantages of a liberal education Broadly stated they are his entering college, the day of his graduation, the career he adopts and his marriage His graduation day and the selection of his career come so close together that they may almost be accepted as one His university and the learned faculty have equipped and trained him for his life work His reliance thereafter is upon himself

He leaves college and enters the world under poetic, even romantic conditions His situation is like that of the knight in the ancient tournament whose valor and skill were witnessed by throngs of gallant gentlemen and beautiful ladies, and who, if successful, had the supreme happiness of crowning some one as the queen of love and beauty As this modern knight of the college curriculum stands upon the commencement platform he is surrounded by admiring relatives by happy and sympathetic friends and a joyous and

Applauding Multitude

The entrance of a young man into the world is commonly described in the vocabulary of the literature of the battle field but that characterization is wholly inadequate Not only is it inadequate but it is untrue The ambitious aspirant for the rewards and honors of life does not expect to win them by the defeat and destruction of his competitors Blood and treasure are not poured out in a successful career in literature, the professions or business It is an ignoble and a mean view which rests upon the ruin of an opponent in order to secure his place

Success in life, with all its hot competitions is rather a contest like some of the games of Olympia and some of the athletic feats of our own times in which the swift runner or the more skillful oarsman may win the prize, but there are laurels and cheers, there are places and rewards for those who fail to secure the supreme positions Of course we know of fortunes which have been made by the misfortunes of others and positions which have been won by the overthrow of others but the man whose accumulations however great and glittering they may be, represent simply the ruin of tens or hundreds or thousands is nothing but a legalized brigand.

It is the Misfortune of our complex civilization that the law has not comprehended and covered in its prohibitions and penalties all the opportunities of sinning against the persons and properties of a community

It is not the least of the glories of our period that a liberal education has become popular and the university the ambition of all the people For nearly a thousand years the university was only for the select few The plain people had no lot or part or interest or opportunity in its advantages The medieval foundation which is the ancestor of the modern college was only for the benefit of a fraction of the population

Originally it was only for the church It took centuries to embrace in a liberal education what are known as the professions It is only in our own time and in America that journalism has been recognized as one of the liberal professions There is nothing so conservative as the college It follows last in the procession of progress It distrusts innovations and discredits theories Its faculty by the very peculiarity of their existence learn to respect the traditions and the teachings of the past and the usefulness of the business college, the manual training school, the technological institute the scientific schools and the schools of mines, medicine, law and theology They are of infinite importance to the youth who has not the money, the time, or the opportunity to secure a liberal education They are of equal benefit to the college graduate who has had a liberal education in training him for his selected pursuit But the theorists, or rather the practical men who are the architects of their own fortunes and who are proclaiming on every occasion that a liberal education is a waste of time for a business man, and that the boy who starts early and is trained only for his one pursuit is destined for a larger success, are doing infinite harm to the ambitious youth of this country

The college, in its four years of discipline, training, teaching and development makes the boy the man His Latin and his Greek his rhetoric and his logic, his science and his philosophy, his mathematics and his history have little or nothing to do with law or medicine or theology, and still less to do with manufacturing or mining or storekeeping, or stocks, or grain or provisions But they have given to the youth when he has graduated, the command of that superb intelligence with which God has endowed him by which for a living or a fortune he grasps his profession or his business and speedily overtakes the boy who abandoning college opportunities, gave his narrow life to the narrowing pursuit of the one thing by which he expected to earn a living

has an equal opportunity for bread and butter, but beyond that he becomes a citizen of commanding influence and a leader in every community where he settles Within his home, however humble it may be and however limited his income to support it he has enjoyment among his books and in the grasp of discussion of the questions of the hour, which are denied to the man who has not drunk at or refused to go to the fountain of knowledge and the well spring of inspiration which flows only in the college or the university

The best proof of the value of a college education in all the pursuits of life is to be found in the eminent success of those who have enjoyed it in the higher walks of the professions of statesmanship and even in business

The world which our young man enters to-day is a very different one from that which his father or grandfather or his ancestors of a hundred years ago knew anything about Fifty years ago he would have graduated at a denominational college and fallen into the church of his father and of his faculty Fifty years ago he would have dropped into the party to which his father belonged

He would have accepted his religious creed from the village pastor and his political principles from the national platform of his father's party But to-day he graduates at a college where the denominational line is loosely drawn and finds that the members of his family have drifted into all churches and are professing all creeds, and he must select for himself the church in which he shall find his home, and the doctrines upon which he shall base his faith

Woman Said to Have Acted Queerly and May be Insane.

Columbus, Ohio, April 1. Mrs W H. Williams, of Grove City, accompanied by three children, registered at the Park Hotel Saturday. To-day two of the children were found dead in her room, with their throats cut One was a boy aged 7, the other a girl aged 12, Two beds were in the room. Annie, aged 13, and her mother occupied one and the two younger children the other. It is supposed that Mrs. Williams murdered the children some time during last night. She has disappeared

Annie says her mother left the room about 8 30 this morning and before going told her not to go near the bed in which her brother and sister were sleeping She obeyed, and not until the chambermaid came in was the tragedy discovered There was found at the foot of the bed a bloody razor.

W. H H Williams, husband of the woman, is an insurance agent here and oil salesman. He was brought to the hotel but refused to talk about the matter and would not permit his daughter Annie to tell what she knew. Acquaintances say they never knew of trouble in the family and Mrs Williams seemed to be of sound mind.

It is supposed that Mrs Williams also intended to kill Annie Williams and his daughter Annie were locked up this evening pending an investigation. The police believe the woman insane They do not suspect that Williams had anything to do with the tragedy, but his unwillingness to talk was deemed sufficient to warrant detention

Williams to-night said that his wife left home Saturday during his absence. She had been "cranky" some time but he did not regard her insane. He supposed she had gone to visit friends in this city or Cleveland until he received a meaningless note this afternoon written by her at the hotel. Mr Williams said he thought his wife had committed suicide

He died last May and after his death rumors were afloat that he had been poisoned It was stated that Mrs O'Mara fed her husband ground glass and had given him certain poisonous concoctions In July the coroner of Fairfield county exhumed the body and after a post mortem and chemical analysis of certain parts of the stomach a certificate was filed confirming the physician's certificate given at the time O'Mara died, which gave apoplexy as the cause of death

Ever since the coroner's finding it is reported that Mrs. Thomas O'Mara has been bothered by her husband's family who claim a share of the insurance money It is thought to-day's tragedy was actuated by a desire to punish her for refusing to listen to O'Mara's demand Mrs O'Mara cannot live

BASE BALL

Notes of the National Game

In Spaulding's base ball guide among others is a group picture of the Philadelphia National League team of last year It contains a good likeness of Manager Sharrott, of the Bangors who was a member of the team the first of the season

The manager of the Salems, of the New England Association, has written for dates with the Bangors the last of this month

It is probable that the Bangors will play three exhibition games with the Portlands in Portland the last of this month as negotiations are now in progress to that effect

The Bangor delegates to the New England League meeting at the Quincy House, Boston, to-morrow will be decided upon to-day At that meeting the schedule committee will report and the allotment of games will then be announced It is expected that Bangor will receive a fair deal in this matter and it is probable that some games will be assigned to this city for July 4th

The directors are in correspondence with a catcher of the New Yorks and a pitcher of the Bostons who are now in the South with those teams It is expected that these players may be either released or "farmed out" and if that is the case Bangor will get them if their terms are not too high They are both first class men

The Bangor directors have decided to make a slight change in the uniforms Instead of blue trimmings they will be crimson The belts will be of russet leather and the caps of the Eaton shape, crimson in color and with a white B, in fancy embroidery upon the front The uniforms will be made by Horace Partridge & Sons of Boston

The directors made arrangements yesterday to have the ball field at Maplewood Park cleared from snow and ice that it may soon dry It has been decided to enlarge the grand stand at Maplewood and the addition will have chairs which will all be reserved and tickets for them sold up town

The contract for the score card privilege for the season has been awarded to Mr John H Bacon whose bid was the highest

Judd has been secured by the Bangor management and if report is to be believed there are few equal to him in the minor leagues He belongs in Cambridgeport, Mass , and was highly recommended by O'Brien and Hayes of the Bangors He will join the team in Boston the middle of the month

The West Side Mission

To-night at 7 30 o'clock Mr Williams will speak at the West Side Mission on the subject "Can I live without sin" Everybody is cordially invited to attend the service, which promises to be a very interesting one At the meeting last evening a temperance organization was formed with over 80 members and an interesting meeting was held We have received the following communication

Editor of the Whig and Courier:

The gospel services which are being held nightly at the West Side Mission are productive of much good Hardly a week passes without results being obtained At the close of the three o'clock meeting Sunday afternoon five persons knelt at the altar desirous of leading a different and better life

This mission (the work it is doing) should be helped by every Christian and sustained by every citizen There are two important reasons why this mission should be supported First, because the converts help to swell the membership of the different churches Secondly, because it is God's work There are many other reasons but those are sufficient The young men who frequent this mission are of a different class from those reached by the church and the mission fills an important field

A Warning to Farmers

We have received the following communication from the Maine Board of Agriculture which explains itself

We learn that representatives of a Western firm are in Maine again trying to start a boom for their system of building creameries. We believe it is the same firm that contracted for the four creameries built here several years ago, on the so called "Elgin plan," which resulted so disastrously for all who took stock or furnished milk.

We would therefore warn all of our business men and farmers against taking stock in their enterprise or encouraging them in any way.

Farmers, in sections where creameries are needed, should co-operate with each other in the matter Erect their own building and purchase their supplies only of local firms, whose responsibilities are well known.

These men are now in Lincoln county, but are liable to appear in any locality at any time.

Lecture this Evening.

The lecture by Mr. W. O. Fuller, Jr., at Grace M. E. church, occurs this evening at 8 o'clock. The subject is "Banking in Kansas. How I found it and how it left me."

This subject seems innocent enough when observed in cold type but in the hands of Mr. Fuller it turns out all sorts of fun, fancy and fact. You laugh, cry and listen with all your powers at the same time. Tickets may be had at the door. The attendance will doubtless be large.

Ladies Like Spring Style Garments

The ladies are delighted with the present spring style of garments, so they tell us, and we have no reason to doubt their sincerity Even the men can find much to admire, everything is so attractive Especially are the ladies pleased with the new capes If one wishes to be a la mode she should be very careful in selecting her spring wrap to have it chic and in harmony with the rest of her costume The edge of the capes should come just below the waist line and if the skirts are flaring, the capes also should be lined with hair cloth An extremely pretty one was seen at the Rines Co's opening yesterday It was black and nearly all the capes this year are in dark colors

Around the neck was a double ruff of the black chiffon, which was brought from there to the shoulders in gathers and then allowed to hang in a flounce with embroidered eyelet holes, to the taffeta ruche around the bottom The effect was very dressy and the high neck ruffle and dark color would clear out even a sallow complexion. Some of the less expensive capes are also very attractive. One of blue cloth has wide ribbon radiating from the collar, fastened above with a piece of jet and lower down with a buckle of blue sparkle trimming. It is quite Frenchy in its jauntiness. Another very simple and pretty one had a black taffeta ruche which is very much used.

These capes are nearly all made of a circular piece of cloth without any seams, cut down the front, with another circular hole for the neck. Some have bead trimming in elaborate patterns; some have satin ribbon applique, some have a neck ruff of both chiffon and pleats of ribbon, and many have flounces of eyelet taffeta. It is a pleasure to the ladies of Bangor to know that they may find garments in such good style without having to leave the city.

TORTURED FOR YEARS.

A Fireman's Battle With Rheumatism.

How He Conquered the Disease After Years of Misery

Henry Wagner, assistant engineer at Fire Station No 5, Cleveland, Ohio, says "For the past nine years I have had rheumatism at intervals and suffered greatly. I would be off duty from ten days to two weeks each time, and although I tried many different so-called remedies, could not obtain any relief. When I first heard of the remarkable cures Munyon's Rheumatism Remedy was making I was very skeptical, but just about then I had a very bad attack and concluded to give them a trial. The first bottle relieved me very much, and by the time I had taken the second bottle I was completely cured. I have not had a rheumatic pain since although I have been wet many times. Now I use Munyon's Remedies in my home and find them most excellent."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure is guaranteed to cure rheumatism in any part of the body. Acute or muscular rheumatism cured in from one to five days. It never fails to cure sharp, shooting pains in the arms, legs, sides, back or breast, or soreness in any part of the body in from one to three hours. It is guaranteed to promptly cure lameness, stiff and swollen joints, stiff back, and all pains in the hips and loins. Chronic rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago or pain in the back are speedily cured.

Munyon's Homoeopathic Home Remedy Company of Philadelphia, put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

Those who are in doubt as to the nature of their disease should address Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch Street, Philadelphia giving full symptoms of their disease. Professor Munyon will carefully diagnose the case and give you the benefit of his advice absolutely free of all charge. The Remedies will be sent to any address on receipt of retail price.

EFFECTS OF LA GRIPPE.

A Pawtucket Man Attempts Murder and Suicide.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., April 1. Joseph Furness is dying at the Rhode Island hospital and his wife is under the care of three physicians at her home on Main street, as a result of an attempt at murder and suicide by the husband late last night. The weapon used was a razor. Furness attacked his wife in bed soon after she had retired and inflicted two ugly gashes in the chin and throat. Furness then gashed his throat, partly severing the windpipe and making two other cuts in the right side. It is believed that Furness had been rendered temporarily insane by an attack of la grippe. Yesterday he was one of the pall bearers at the funeral of a brother member of the Sons of St. George. He has acted strangely at home for two weeks past and physicians contemplated having him confined in an insane asylum. It is thought Mrs Furness will recover

Bare Majority of Students Favor the Triangular League.

HANOVER, N. H., March 30. A mass meeting of Dartmouth students was held in the old chapel this afternoon to see what action should be taken with reference to the attempt of Amherst and Williams to prevent Dartmouth from playing her medical students on the foot ball team. For two hours the matter was discussed in a very spirited manner, showing the sentiment to be very evenly divided as between withdrawing from the league or giving up the medics and remaining in the organization

Finally a vote to indefinitely postpone action on the matter before the meeting, which was to sever connection with the present organization, was carried by a majority of one.

A TRUST AND MONOPOLY

Chicago Decision Against United States School Furniture Company

CHICAGO, Ill., March 30. Judge Baker rendered a decision to-day in the suit of the attorney-general against the United States School Furniture Company, in which he declares that said company is a trust and monopoly, and that its existence is contrary to the public policy of the State.

Attorney General Moloney filed his information against the company about a year ago, alleging that the company was a combination of 16 corporations and firms engaged in the manufacture of school furniture in the whole country. The attorneys for the company asked for 20 days in which to plead or answer to the information, which the court held to be good, and the request was granted. It is probable, however, that the defendants will take an appeal to the supreme court.

Edward S. Tingle, U. S Consul at Brunswick, Germany, in his report just received at Washington, says: "In view of the prohibition of German markets to American cattle, there is another direction toward which American packers might well turn their attention. That is the preparation and sale of horse meat. While exact statistics as to the consumption of horse meat are difficult to obtain, it seems almost as great as beef or mutton in the large cities of Germany. In smaller cities where is some prejudice against horse meats, the consumption of about a third of beef in those places and the use of horse meat is growing daily. Its consumers are exclusively of the poorer classes and they comprise nine-tenths of the consumers of the country. Beef and other first class meat costs fifteen to twenty-five cents a pound in Germany and are out of reach of the average workman who receives seventy five cents or a dollar a day."

The demand for horse meat in Germany, Mr Tingle states, has grown to such an extent that it is beginning to be difficult to supply it. Formerly the German butcher had little difficulty in procuring for slaughter horses, either worn out or injured so far as to be worthless, a supply of this class of animals, but exhausted horses for butchering now cost $15 to $30, where formerly, they could be had for $5 to $10. The consequence is, the butcher finds he must raise the price. Mr Tingle says horses can be raised in the United States much cheaper than cattle. They can be slaughtered by any American packing houses easily and can be shipped alive across the sea much more easily than cattle can be sold, either on hoof or dressed at a price certainly greater than seven cents a pound. The meat consumed in Germany is in both a salted and smoked state

"With an astonishingly rapid disuse of horses in America," says Col Tingle, "their raising, especially in the west, is far from being a profitable industry. Ranchmen can make of horses for food profitable, why should he not do it?"

A Halifax, N. S, despatch says An unknown two masted schooner foundered at 9 30 Sunday morning on Trinity ledge, about 15 miles off Cape St. Mary, in the Bay of Fundy. At 3 P M. about twenty feet of masts could be seen out of the water, and the crew were in the rigging. No means of relief were at hand. An endeavor will be made to obtain a tug boat at Yarmouth, but it being Sunday, it is very doubtful if this can be accomplished in time to rescue the unfortunate seamen. It is feared the tide will have ebbed before relief arrives, in which case little hope of saving the crew is entertained. The schooner struck the ledge at low tide.

The schooner ashore at Pollock Rip Saturday, was the Henry Withington, Philadelphia for Boston, with coal. Fortunately aid was rendered by Capt. ANNUAL MEETING

Of Mt Hope Cemetery Corporation Monday.—Election of Officers and Other Business

The annual meeting of the Mt. Hope Cemetery Corporation was held yesterday at 10 A M at the Common Council room, City Hall, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year

President—James Adams

Secretary—J. M Bright

Treasurer—A W Paine

Auditor—H O Pierce

Ex Com—James Adams, I W Coombs, C L Marston, C H Bartlett, M G Trask

The report of the executive committee was as follows

Executive Committee's Report.

The Executive Committee ask leave to present the thirty-seventh annual report, as follows

The last like former years, has been a busy one. Your Executive Committee have used their best efforts in making improvements and are pleased to report a marked and growing interest among the owners, in grading and beautifying their lots, in this, our silent city of the dead.

Each year, as the grounds are extended, additional expenditures are necessary

The past year one 12 inch sewer about 300 feet long, with various smaller drains, have been constructed making the lots in that locality very much more desirable, there has also been one cesspool constructed, which was a necessity

The hill east of the new pond has been partially graded, and new streets have been laid out in that part of the grounds, many of the streets and walks have been well graveled the past season

The Lowder house was sold for $125 00 reserving a portion of the granite, the house has been taken down, and mostly removed, a part of the granite reserved has been sold for $78 00, the barn has been moved to the east side of the road and repaired, at an expense of about $112 00. It will be a great convenience for the storage of hay, materials, etc

The grass on the Lowder place was sold last season for $100 00

About six acres have been ploughed on each side of the new Veazie road and partly seeded, which, when completed will make the appearance much more attractive

There are about 50 acres of good pasture land north of the new Veazie road which has been well fenced during the past season

We find valuable deposits of sand and gravel on the Lowder purchase

Have sold about the usual number of lots the past year nearly all the lots in the old part of the grounds are sold, with the exception of a few on the hill now being graded

The financial affairs of the Corporation will be fully shown by the report of the Treasurer

Our report would certainly be incomplete without referring to the untiring efforts of our worthy Superintendent Mr Cole, who, from the very first, has shown such an interest in everything pertaining to his work. He is courteous to all, and has proved faithful in every respect. In the improvements of the grounds he has shown excellent judgment. Our thanks and gratitude are also due to Mrs Cole, who has devoted much of her time in caring for visitors, and has displayed such excellent taste in the arrangement of plants and shrubs

Since our last meeting one of the most active members of our Committee has been taken away

On Jan 4th, Hon Lysander Strickland was suddenly called from these earthly scenes to a higher life, we miss his genial presence and wise counsel, his interest in everything connected with the welfare of this corporation was unceasing. We earnestly recommend the passage of resolutions of respect to his memory which will be offered at this meeting

Respectfully submitted

Dr. PIERCE'S Golden Medical DISCOVERY

Cures Ninety-eight per cent of all cases of Consumption, in all its Earlier Stages

Although by many believed to be incurable, there is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its earlier stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 98 per cent are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by Golden Medical Discovery were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of Golden Medical Discovery, but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cod-liver oil and its filthy compounds, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. Address for Book, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.
